

Index

a

acid feed, in WTP/WWTP design HCl 190–193
 H₂SO₄ 187–190
 activated complex 168
 activated sludge process 469–474
 three-stage (see three-stage activated sludge process)
 two-stage 474–477
 activation energy 168
 acute stressors 157
 advanced oxidation process costs 461–465
 air management, design hierarchy for 97, 98 air pollutant standard index 13–15 air pollution 19, 20
 AirPrex process 467
 air quality index 13–14
 air quality standards 131
 air stripping packed-column air stripper 342–353
 thermal oxidation and activated carbon 341
 algae culture 406
 ammonia-oxidizing bacteria, cometabolism in 200, 201 anaerobic ammonia oxidation (anammox) 201, 203 nitrite concentrations 202 optimum parameters 202
 anaerobic digester reactor 262–263
 anaerobic digestion, for biogas production
 acetogenesis 396
 and aerobic processes 398
 aerobic sludge 397
 anaerobic respiration 397
 anaerobic treatment 397
 biodegradable organics and nutrients 399
 biological oxygen demand (BOD) 396
 carbon and nutrient removal process 396
 electricity consumption 398
 fermentation 396, 397
 hydrolysis 396
 methane and carbon dioxide 396
 methanogenesis 396
 nonbiodegradable organic solid 398

operation guidelines 397–399
 product size 397
 reduction reactions 396
 upflow anaerobic sludge blanket (UASB) reactors 398 anaerobic process design 282, 339–341
 Arrhenius equation 170
 ASM3biop 425
 atmospheric CO₂ 4, 5
 atmospheric pollution equivalent values 454, 456 attributes, ISA 97

b

bacteria sensitivity index (BSI) 381–382 batch reactor design
 vs. CSTR and PFR 203–204 limiting reagents 203
 mass balance 203
 benchmark dose (BMD) methods 34
 Benson's thermochemical group additivity theory 172 biochemical oxygen demand (BOD) 186 biogas production, anaerobic digestion for acetogenesis 396
 and aerobic processes 398
 aerobic sludge 397
 anaerobic respiration 397
 anaerobic treatment 397
 biodegradable organics and nutrients 399
 biological oxygen demand (BOD) 396
 carbon and nutrient removal process 396
 electricity consumption 398
 fermentation 396, 397
 hydrolysis 396
 methane and carbon dioxide 396
 methanogenesis 396
 nonbiodegradable organic solid 398
 operation guidelines 397–399
 product size 397
 reduction reactions 396
 upflow anaerobic sludge blanket (UASB) reactors 398
 biomass 185
 Biscayne aquifer 428

- black carbon 131
- business plan 493, 494
- C
- calculated dose approach 144
 - uncertainty of interpolation 149
- Camp–Stein equation 326–327
- carbon pollution 11
- carrying capacity 11–13
- cash flow statement 495
- central vs. decentralized WWTP 136–137
- Check Up Program for Small Systems (CUPSS) 138
- chemical–biological treatment 281
- chemical kinetics
 - activated complex 168
 - activation energy 168
 - Arrhenius equation 170
 - elementary reactions 168
 - kinetic rate constants 171–172
 - linearized kinetic equations 170
 - Maxwell–Boltzmann distribution 170
 - pseudo-first order 168
 - rate coefficient 168
 - rate constant 168
 - rate determination steps 168
 - rate law 168
- chemical oxygen demand (COD) 186, 215
- chemical phosphorus removal
 - alum precipitation 282–283
 - iron coagulants 281
- chemical precipitation 324–325
- chronic stressors 157
- climate change 11
- coagulation and flocculation
 - Camp–Stein equation 326–327
 - destabilization 325
 - electric double layer (EDL) 325
 - mechanisms of 326
 - power, pressure, and pump in reactors 327–333
 - static and plug-flow reactor mixers 327
- CO₂ emitters worldwide 71
- collimated beam test 141–142
 - bench-scale testing 142–143
 - data uncertainty 152–153
 - full-scale reactor testing 143
 - UV dose–response curve 151–152
- combined sewer system overflows 454
- community proposal project 319
- components, ISA 97
- computational chemistry (CCH) 179
- computational fluid dynamics (CFD) 179
- computer software, for quantitative risk assessment 62
- continuous stirred tank reactors (CSTRs)
 - vs. batch reactor and PFR 203–204
 - hydraulic condition for 167
 - lowest reaction rate 204
 - mass balance 203
- Cryptosporidium* concentrations 35
- Crystalactor 467
- d
- Darcy–Weisbach (D–W) equation 232
- decentralized vs. central WWTP 136–137
- decentralized wastewater management system, defined 137
- decentralized WRRFs 95, 159
- denitrification process 200–201
- dermal contaminants, cancer screening calculation
 - for 41–43
- design principles
 - balance between capital and operating costs 87–88
 - efficiency of renewable material 80–82
 - implementation procedure 88–89
 - integrated and interconnected system hierarchy 78–79
 - optimization through modeling and simulation 86–87
 - prevention 82–83
 - recovery 83–84
 - reliability on spatial scale 79–80
 - retrofitting and remediation 86
 - SEE integration into undergraduate education 89–91
 - separation 84–85
 - system resiliency on temporal scale 80
 - treatment 85–86
- disinfection by-products (DBPs) 10
 - classification 36, 47
 - DBP health advisory concentration 44–46
- disinfection, in WTP/WWTP design
 - chlorine 193–196
 - ultraviolet 196–199
- domestic solid waste treatment facilities, in China
 - incineration capacity 101, 102
 - indicators 98–99
 - landfill capacity 101
 - monitoring system investment 102
 - total investment 103
 - transfer facilities investment 102
 - treatment capacity 99–101
 - treatment facilities investment 102
- Drinkable Book™ 496
- e
- ecological footprint (EF) 6
- electrical energy per order (EE/O) 153–154
- emerging treatment technologies
 - electron beam irradiation 388–389
 - ozonation 387
 - sonolysis 388
 - supercritical water oxidation 387–388
 - UV radiation 387

- energy balances
 - conduction 223
 - convection 223
 - exergy 225
 - mass and energy inputs and outputs 223
 - open systems 223
 - physical framework, by thermodynamics 224
 - second law of thermodynamics 224
- energy conservation laws see thermodynamics laws
- energy consumption
 - flow in pipe 232
 - pump efficiency 232–233
 - pump station 232–233
- entrepreneur
 - business plan 493, 494
 - definition 492
 - EI financing 493
 - finance of environmental infrastructure 493
 - financial planning 495
 - out-of-the-box thinking skills 493
 - successful entrepreneurs, requirements for 492
- environmental engineering infrastructure systems
 - (EIS) 1 see also design principles; wastewater treatment plant (WWTP); water treatment plant (WTP)
 - ASCE criteria for sustainability 67
 - ISWM data analysis 115–117
 - regenerative design 68
 - resiliency 158
- environmental health issues 29–31
- environmental laws 22–24
- environmental regulations
 - DVGW vs. US EPA. 369
 - EPA LT2ESWTR 367
 - EU UV dose requirements, UV disinfection 369–370
 - LT2ESWTR and Stage 2 DBPR
 - Matlab codes 366
 - microbial/disinfection by-product (M/DBP) rules 366
 - ozonation costs 366
 - UV disinfection 368
- environmental standards
 - benchmark dose (BMD) methods 34
 - health advisories for drinking water contaminants 32
 - maximum contaminant level (MCL) 31–32
 - maximum contaminant level goal (MCLG) 32–33
 - of chloroform 34
 - quantitative structure–activity relationship (QSAR) study 35
 - reference dose (RfD) 33
- environmental tax items and rates, by CMEP 454
- EPA analysis tools 137, 138
- excavation remedies 419
- excessive nitrogen runoff 10
- exergy 221, 225
- exposure assessment
 - cancer screening calculation 41–43
 - noncancer screening calculation 43–44
- f
 - fat–oil–grease (FOG) 322
 - Fenton process (FP)
 - biodegradable OM 428
 - 5,5-dimethyl-1-pyrroline N-oxide (DMPO) 429
 - DMPO–OH EPR signal, kinetic model
 - EPR quantification hydroxyl radical concentration 434
 - EPR spectrum 432
 - Fenton reagent concentration 431
 - 2-hydroxy-5,5-dimethyl-1-pyrrolidinyloxy 429
 - hydroxyl radicals 429–430
 - peak-to-peak amplitude 435
 - steady-state hydroxyl radical concentration 430
 - 2,5,5-trimethyl-1-pyrroline-N-oxide (M3PO)
 - tautomers 433
 - UV-Vis absorbance 432
 - electron paramagnetic resonance (EPR) 429
 - hydroxyl radical concentration 429
 - hydroxyl radicals 428
 - optimal ratio 429
 - Fenton’s reagent, reaction mechanism of 178
 - ferrous sulfate 281
 - ferryl–oxo species 178
 - financial planning 495
 - Financing Alternatives Comparison Tool (FACT) 138
 - front-end design (FED) 97
- g
 - gasification 406
 - Gifhorn process, site-specific data for 468
 - global water cycle 3
 - gray water system 7–9
 - green building 420
 - green chemistry (GC)
 - for environmental management 74, 75
 - history 74, 75
 - principles 76
 - green engineering (GE) 73, 76
 - greenhouse gas emissions evaluation fact sheet 419–420
 - green infrastructure (GI) 3
 - climate change adaptation 3
 - GI tools 242
 - Integrated Urban Water Management Paradigm 241–242
 - modeling tools 242–243
 - green remediation
 - data quality 415
 - electricity generation 415–416
 - goals and scope of analysis 411–412
 - materials and waste metrics 411

- green remediation (cont'd)
 - quantify energy and air metrics 414
 - quantify on-site materials and waste metrics 412–413
 - quantify on-site water metrics 413–414
 - remedy information 412
 - US EPA 410
 - green retrofitting
 - energy auditing 400–404
 - phototrophic system 404–406
 - renewable energy 406
 - sludge processing and disposal 406–410
 - green roof (GR) design
 - cost/benefit analysis 265, 266
 - life cycle assessment
 - conventional air pollutants 266, 267
 - economic activity 266
 - energy 266, 268
 - greenhouses gases 266, 267
 - transportation 266, 268
 - uses 265
 - gross domestic product (GDP) 69–71
 - gross primary production (GPP) 5
 - group theory 172
- h
- Haber–Bosch (HB) process, nitrogen fertilizers 10
 - haloacetonitriles 36, 37
 - haloalkanes 36
 - halogen-substituted meta-phenols, photocatalytic
 - oxidation of 172
 - Hammett correlation analysis 177–178
 - hole vs. hydroxyl radical oxidation 174
 - Langmuir–Hinshelwood (LH) modeling 174–175
 - pH effect 175–176
 - Hammett correlation analysis 177–178
 - hazard identification (HI) 36–37
 - health advisories for drinking water contaminants 32
 - health risk assessment (HRA)
 - DBP health advisory concentration 44–46
 - dose–response curves 37, 38
 - exposure assessment
 - cancer screening calculation 41–43
 - noncancer screening calculation 43–44
 - hazard identification 36–37
 - linear dose–response assessment 40–41
 - nonlinear dose–response assessment 37–40
 - QSAR analysis 46–48
 - multiple linear regression 48–49
 - validation 49–54
 - quantification of uncertainty
 - computer software 62
 - Monte Carlo simulation 56–62
 - QSAR model 55–56, 60–61
 - types 55
 - risk characterization 46
 - specific parameters 42
 - hole vs. hydroxyl radical oxidation 174
 - human demand 5–6
 - human footprints
 - description 6–7
 - gray water system 7–9
 - water footprints 7
 - hydraulic retention time (HRT) 397
 - hydrological balance of water 4
 - hydroxyl radical kinetic constants 172
- i
- income statement 495
 - innovative consumer products
 - Drinkable Book™ 496
 - SteriPEN 495–496
 - SunSpring™ 496
 - innovative technologies 495, 496
 - integrated air pollution management 131–132
 - integrated management plan 96
 - Integrated Risk Information System (IRIS) 36
 - integrated solid waste management (ISWM)
 - data analysis
 - measuring quantity 115–116
 - waste composition, calculations for 116–117
 - generation source perspective 103, 108
 - life-cycle-assessment, solid waste recycle 109–115
 - life cycle perspective 107, 109
 - market in China 103–106
 - municipal solid wastes 107, 109, 110
 - stakeholders/management perspective 107, 108
 - strategy 103, 107–109
 - waste composition, determination of
 - calorific value 117–120
 - chemical composition 117–119
 - data presentation 119–121
 - moisture content 117
 - Zero Waste Strategic Plan 120–126
 - integrated system approach (ISA) 97
 - septic system 138
 - US EPA analysis tools 137, 138
 - water-consuming household appliances 137–138
 - water-efficient appliances 139–141
 - integrated urban water management (IUWM)
 - paradigm 241–242
 - integrated water resources management (IWRM)
 - 127–128
 - baseline analysis 126, 128
 - definition 3
 - description 124
 - participatory approach 124
 - sustainability objectives 124, 126
 - sustainable criteria 126, 128
 - US EPA procedure 127
 - International Organization for Standardization (ISO) 21

- iron coagulants 281
 ISWM see integrated solid waste management (ISWM)
 IWRM see integrated water resources management (IWRM)
- k
- kinetic simulations chain-promoting chain-terminating reactions 437
 formic acid oxidation rate 436
- l
- landfill leachate quality characteristics
 acidic fermentation 427
 elemental composition 428 energy-dispersive spectroscopy (EDS) analysis 427 physicochemical characteristics 427 refractory (nonbiodegradable) compounds 427 volatile fatty acids (VFA) 426–427
 in China 428
 Fenton process (FP) 428
 history of 426
 treatment facilities and market size 428 landfills 279
 land management, design hierarchy for 97, 98
 Langmuir–Hinshelwood (LH) modeling 174–175
 leachate treatment 426
 Levenspiel plot 204 life cycle assessment (LCA) 21–23, 178
 environmental laws 23, 24
 goal and scope definition 21
 green roof (GR) design
 conventional air pollutants 265, 267
 economic activity 266
 energy 265, 268
 greenhouses gases 265, 267
 transportation 265, 268
 uses 265
 impact assessment 22
 input and output methods 21, 22 interpretation and documentation 22 inventory analysis and product model 21 rain garden design 270–271
 review 22
 solid waste recycle 109–115 tools 22, 23
 uncertainty and sensitivity analysis 22 life cycle cost and benefit analysis (LCCBA) 279
 advanced oxidation process costs 461–465
 challenges and opportunities 453–454
 optimal pipe size 454–455, 457–461 phosphorus recovery (see phosphorus recovery from sludge/wastewater) principle 453
 linear dose–response assessment 40–41
- Long Term 2 Enhanced Surface Water Treatment Rule (LT2ESWTR) 141, 365–367
- m
- materials recovery facilities (MRFs) 103 mathematical model 425
 maximum contaminant level (MCL) 31–32
 maximum contaminant level goal (MCLG) 32–33
 of chloroform 34
 quantitative structure–activity relationship (QSAR) study 35
 membrane biological reactor 339–341
 membrane filtration systems
 capital and O&M costs flow rates 353–358
 reverse osmosis and nanofiltration 358–361
 molten salt fuel cell (MSFC) technologies 453
 2-monochlorophenol (2-MCP) oxidation 206–207
 Monte Carlo simulation (MCS) 56–60 sensitivity analysis 61–62
 multiple linear regression (MLR) 48–49
 municipal solid wastes (MSWs) 425
- n
- National ambient air quality standards 13–14
 National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) 67
 nitrification process 200 nitrogen fertilizer production, Haber–Bosch process 10 nitrogen forms, in domestic wastewater 199–200
 nonlinear dose–response assessment 37–40
 nonrenewable fossil energy 1
- o
- onshore petroleum, environmental laws on 24
 optimization
 Fenton oxidation of landfill leachate 437–439
 Fenton reagent dose effect of L_{COD} 444–447
 Fe^{2+} and COD ratio 443
 H_2O_2 and COD ratio 443
 H_2O_2 and Fe^{2+} 442–443
 total COD removal 444–445
 optimum operating conditions effect of reaction time 440–442 pH 440
 reaction time 440
 temperature 442
 out-of-the-box thinking skills 493
 ozone 131
- p
- packed bed reactor (PBR) design 203 packed-column air stripper 342–353
 peak oil 11

- Pearl process 467
- Pfautler reactors, cost of 212–213
- pH effects
- halogen-substituted meta-phenols, photocatalytic oxidation of 175–176
 - on Hammett correlations 177
- phosphorus depletion 10–11
- phosphorus recovery from sludge/wastewater 465
- activated sludge process 469–474
 - capital cost of 469, 470
 - chemicals used 468, 469
 - Gifhorn process 468
 - process components 468
 - size and duration of operation 469
 - three-stage activated sludge process 477–479
 - with alum addition 479–482
 - with alum and tertiary clarifier 482–484
 - with alum, tertiary clarifier and filtration 484–487
 - with tertiary clarifier and activated absorption 489–492
 - with tertiary clarifier and activated aluminum absorption 487–489
 - two-stage activated sludge process 474–477
 - yield coefficients 466–469
- phosphorus removal, from wastewater
- alum precipitation 282–283
 - biological uptake 280
 - chemical phosphorus removal 281–283
 - in conventional treatment 281
 - sedimentation 280
- photocatalytic oxidation, of halogen-substituted meta-phenols 172
- Hammett correlation analysis 177–178
 - hole vs. hydroxyl radical oxidation 174
 - Langmuir–Hinshelwood (LH) modeling 174–175
 - pH effect 175–176
- planetary boundary (PB) 13
- plug flow reactor (PFR) 210
- vs. batch reactor and CSTR 203–204
 - conversion and reaction rate profiles 208
 - vs. CSTR reactor size 209
 - hydraulic condition for 167
 - volume comparison for 2-MCP 2,4-DCP and 2,4,6-TCP 211, 212
- point estimate method (PEM) 60
- pollution equivalent values
- amount of residual chlorine 454, 456
 - atmospheric 454, 456
 - class II water pollutants 454, 455
 - class I water pollutants 454, 455
 - coliform group numbers 454, 456
 - color 454, 456
 - livestock husbandry 454, 456
 - pH values 454, 456
 - small business 454, 456
 - tertiary industry 454, 456
- pollution prevention 74, 75
- green chemistry (GC) 239, 240
 - hazardous wastes 239
 - US Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) 239
 - volume reduction 239
 - waste reduction 239
- post-remediation site conditions 420–421
- prevention 82–83
- of flooding 240
 - pollution prevention
 - green chemistry (GC) 239
 - hazardous wastes 239
 - US Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) 239
 - volume reduction 239
 - waste reduction 239
 - of water contamination 241
- process system modeling (PSM) 179
- pseudo-first order 168
- purchasing power parity (PPP) 69
- pyrolysis 406
- q
- quantitative structure-activity relationship (QSAR) analysis, in HRA 46–48
- DBPs classification 46, 47
 - halogenated alkane compounds 49–51
 - multiple linear regression 48–49
 - quantification of uncertainty 55–56, 60–61
 - validation 49–54
- Q-value tables, for water quality index calculations 14, 16
- r
- rain garden design
- conventional development 273
 - cost and benefit analysis 271
 - cost estimate 273
 - drainage area 269
 - environmental impacts of aluminum
 - energy 271
 - energy, from sectors 271, 272
 - greenhouse gases 271, 272
 - water withdrawals 271
 - garden length 270
 - green improvements 273
 - life cycle assessment 270–271
 - lot information 273
 - Miami-Dade County Stormwater Fee 273–274
 - monetary 273
 - nitrogen and phosphorus footprint 274, 276
 - predevelopment 273

- project location 269
 - rain garden depth 269
 - rain garden volume 270
 - runoff reduction goal 273
 - surface area 270
 - volume control 273
 - water footprint 274, 276
 - rain harvest
 - roof area determination
 - cumulative plot method 250–252
 - smallest roof area 252–254
 - and tank size 257–262
 - without city water 254–257
 - water demand, of public bathroom
 - day of month 244, 245
 - flowchart of 244, 245
 - input data 244, 245
 - monthly water demand 244, 246
 - roof area and tank size 247–250
 - uses and flow rate of bathroom 244, 245
 - rate determination steps 168
 - rate laws 168
 - reduction equivalent dose (RED) calculation 145–148
 - reference dose (RfD) 33
 - relationships, ISA 97
 - reliability 79–80
 - definition 135
 - small WWTPs, best practice steps 137
 - of UV disinfection system
 - collimated beam data uncertainty 152–153
 - electrical energy per order 153–154
 - LT2ESWTR validation requirements 141, 142
 - reduction equivalent dose (RED) calculation 145–148
 - uncertainty in validation 149–152
 - UV sensitivity of challenge microorganisms 143–145
 - validation testing, requirements for 141–143
 - renewable energy
 - activated sludge 216
 - biomass 216
 - chemical engineering 216
 - China emission reduction target
 - ammonia nitrogen in 217, 219
 - chemical oxygen demand (COD) 217, 219
 - of nitrogen oxides 217, 220
 - of SO₂ 217, 220
 - of volatile organic carbon 217, 221
 - China energy consumption reduction target 217, 218
 - COD and BOD 215
 - energy balances 223–225
 - energy conservation laws 218–219, 221–223
 - fossil fuels, inefficient combustion of 216–218
 - history of 2
 - roadmap of 2, 3
 - solar photovoltaic technology 216
 - sources 1
 - renewable materials
 - acid feeds, capital cost and O&M cost 187–193
 - stoichiometry 185–186
 - residential soil contaminants, noncancer screening
 - calculation for 43–44
 - resiliency 80
 - challenges and opportunities 159
 - definition 157–158
 - discharge standards 159–160
 - population growth 160–162
 - steady vs. unsteady system 162–167
- S
- semibatch reactor (SBR) PN/A sidestream treatment
 - systems 202
 - separation 84–85
 - air stripping
 - packed-column air stripper 342–353
 - thermal oxidation and activated carbon 341
 - black water 321
 - challenges and opportunities 323–324
 - chemical precipitation 324–325
 - cloth microsieved solids 321
 - coagulation and flocculation 325–333
 - domestic solid waste (DSW) stream 322
 - energy consumption and materials 321
 - fat–oil–grease (FOG) 322
 - membrane biological reactor 339–341
 - membrane filtration systems
 - capital and O&M costs 353–361
 - particle size vs. treatment technologies 322
 - physicochemical treatment 321
 - purpose of 321
 - reverse osmosis 322
 - urine and fecal separation 321
 - zero water design 321
 - septic system 138
 - shoulder broadness index (SBI) 382
 - SiteWise™ 421
 - sludge treatment methods, in China 73
 - small WWTPs, reliability of 137
 - soil quality index (SQI) 17–19
 - solar energy
 - biosphere and economic system 233
 - calculation of 233–235
 - green infrastructure (GI) 233
 - solid waste management, in China
 - incineration capacity 101, 102
 - indicators 98–99
 - landfill capacity 101
 - monitoring system investment 102

solid waste management, in China (cont'd)
 total investment 103
 transfer facilities investment 102
 treatment capacity 99–101
 treatment facilities investment 102
 standardized modular technologies 453
 SteriPEN 495–496
 stoichiometry 185–186
 Struvia process 467
 successful entrepreneurs, requirements for 492
 SunSpring™ 496
 surface waters, classification of 14, 15 sustainability
 history 67, 68
 material sustainability in natural cycles 68
 United Nations sustainable development goals 68–70
 US EPA unit impact metrics 76
 “Venn” diagram 96
 sustainable development goals (SDGs) 68–70 sustainable element management 95 sustainable environmental engineering (SEE) challenges 69–71
 definition 68, 69
 designer challenges 96
 goal 96
 metrics 76–78
 opportunities 71–74
 principles 76 (see also design principles) system development 136
 sustainable remediation tool (SRT) 421
 Swiss Federal Institute of Aquatic Science and Technology (EAWAG) 425

t

theoretical oxygen demand 186 thermodynamics laws
 first thermodynamic law 221
 second thermodynamic law conservation of energy 222–223 energy conversion 221–222
 enthalpy 222
 The Wastewater Information System Tool (TWIST) 138
 three-stage activated sludge process 477–479
 with alum addition 479–482
 with alum and tertiary clarifier 482–484
 with alum, tertiary clarifier and filtration 484–487
 with tertiary clarifier and activated absorption 489–492
 with tertiary clarifier and activated aluminum absorption 487–489 turnover time, phytoplankton 5
 twelve design principles (TDPs) see design principles
 two-stage activated sludge process 474–477

u

uncertainty of interpolation 149
 United Nations Environmental Protection (UNEP) 69
 United Nations sustainable development goals 68–70
 upflow anaerobic sludge blanket (UASB) reactors 398
 urban pollutants direct economic losses 240
 integrated urban water management (IUWM) 240 risk of flooding 240 sediment control 241 sponge city 240–241
 stormwater runoff 240
 urban drainage system 240
 water contamination 241
 US EPA SDWA regulations 367
 UV disinfection 35
 absorption coefficient 372 antibiotic resistant bacteria (ARBs) 385, 386
 design considerations hydraulic retention time 390–391
 turbidity 391
 UV components 391
 UV lamps 391
 fluence 372–374
 history 370
 photochemistry 370–371
 UV dose 371–372
 UV dose–response 374–376
 virus sensitivity index (VSI) 376–381
 UV disinfection system, reliability of collimated beam data uncertainty 152–153
 electrical energy per order 153–154
 reduction equivalent dose (RED) calculation 145–148
 UV sensitivity of challenge microorganisms 143–145
 validation
 flow rate, RED 146–148
 LT2ESWTR requirements 141, 142 testing requirements 141–143 test plan 150–151
 uncertainty in 149–152
 UV dose requirements 35
 UV intensity set point approach 149

v

validation and uncertainty analysis 447–448
 virus sensitivity index (VSI)
 applications 379–381
 first-order kinetics 376
 MS2-phage 377
 relative UV fluence H_i/H_r 377–378
 volatile fatty acids (VFA) 426–427

W

- waste composition, determination of
 - calorific value 117–120
 - chemical composition 117–119
 - data presentation 119–121
 - moisture content 117
- waste water (WW)
 - chemical precipitation 324–325
 - domestic wastewater (DWW) 325
 - in rural China 323
- wastewater treatment plant (WWTP) 1, 425
 - aging infrastructures 10
 - avoiding acid addition 187–193
 - best practice benchmark 399–400
 - capital and operation cost
 - admin/lab/shop building, flow rates 286–290
 - aerobic SBR 297–300
 - disinfection 314–317
 - filtration 311–314
 - headworks 290–293
 - MBR 301–304
 - microfiltration 304–307
 - oxidation 293–297
 - reverse osmosis 308–311
 - central vs. decentralized 136–137
 - conventional systems 323–324
 - disinfection with chlorine 193–196
 - energy efficiency 215
 - energy positive design 23
 - equalization basin 162–167
 - green retrofitting and remediation
 - activated sludge (AS) 396
 - anaerobic digestion, for biogas production 396–399
 - conventional WWTPs 395, 396
 - energy auditing 400–404
 - energy efficiency, of water 396
 - materials and waste metrics 411
 - methodology 411–416
 - phototrophic system 404–406
 - renewable energy 406
 - sludge processing and disposal 406–410
 - integrated planning 127
 - LCA tools 350, 352–353
 - membrane biological reactor (MBR) 324
 - operation and maintenance 323
 - operation parameters and performance levels 324
 - patented OLAND scheme 202
 - phosphorus recovery (see also phosphorus recovery from sludge/wastewater)
 - aerobic conditions 283
 - enhanced phosphorus uptake 283–284
 - phosphorus-accumulating bacteria 283
 - sewage sludge 283
 - struvite precipitation 284–286
 - regenerative design 23
 - sludge digestion technology 324
 - and sludge disposal 323
 - sludge generation 73
 - solar-powered WWTP 235
 - sustainable design, temporal vs. spatial scales
 - computational tools in multiscale modeling 179, 181
 - integrated multiscale approach 179, 180
 - modeling and simulation, scales of 179, 180
 - time and length multiscales 179
- 12th Five-Year Plan (FYP) 324
- toxic pollutants 428
- ultraviolet disinfection 196–199
- unit energy consumption values
 - anaerobic digestion 227, 231
 - anaerobic digestion dewatering 231
 - biological reactor and final clarifiers 227, 230
 - boiler 227, 231
 - dewatering cake 231
 - dewatering sidestream pump 231
 - flare 231
 - gravity thickener 227, 230
 - influent pump station 227, 229
 - lime stabilization 227, 230
 - mechanical thickener 227, 230
 - primary clarifier 227, 229
 - screening and grit removal 227, 229
 - typical disinfection 227, 230
- upgrade/retrofit 454
- in urban China 324
- urine separation project 323
- Water and Wastewater Treatment Technologies
 - Appropriate for Reuse (WAWTTAR) 138
- water budget 3
- water-consuming household appliances 137–138
- water-efficient appliances 139–141
- WATERisLIFE 496
- water management, design hierarchy for 97, 98
- water pollution 19–21
- water quality index 14, 16–17
- water resource recovery facilities (WRRFs) 127
 - energy breakdown 72, 128
 - future 129
 - integrated planning tools 128, 131
 - operating cost breakdown 72, 128, 129
 - operations 128, 130
 - organic compounds in wastewater 185
 - performance 158
 - water resources, quality of 98
- water treatment plant (WTP) 1
 - aging infrastructures 10

water treatment plant (WTP) (cont'd)

avoiding acid addition 187–193

disinfection with chlorine 193–196

integrated planning 127

sustainable design, temporal vs. spatial scales

computational tools in multiscale modeling 179, 181

integrated multiscale approach 179, 180

modeling and simulation, scales of 179, 180

time and length multiscales 179

ultraviolet disinfection 196–199

unit energy consumption values 225–227

World Meteorological Organization (WMO) Commission for Hydrology 3

WRRFs see water resource recovery facilities (WRRFs)

Z

Zenon MBR 318

zero discharge EEIS 68

zero waste 68